Christian Bautista portrays the role of a Filipino singer-actor named Jayden in the film. The character is a struggling singer whose quest for fame is not quite successful in the Philippines. With his Aunt Penelope's help, he decides to fly to his mother who lives in Jakarta, Indonesia. There he takes on a job as a music teacher for special children.

Simfoni Luar Biasa (A Special Symphony) is an Indonesian film starring our very own premier balladeer Christian Bautista. In here, he plays struggling singer Jayden who is at a lost for his purpose and having difficulty looking for his happiness. But even as he is the prime star of this movie, shining even brighter are the kids who are in this film.

Aside from Jayden's struggles the film focuses on the current situation of kids with special needs. It addresses how each one is unique and how we should be treating them. It was also a great showcase of the kids talents and I was just in awe listening to them sing. The movie is not the picture perfect one you would expect but it was a heartwarming experience. The plot was good enough to make you feel the emotions. Christian Bautista's acting chops are highly commendable as you can feel how he relates with the kids. The musicality and the sound were also something nice. I only felt a bit detached with the initial scenes of the movie which I believe could have been done better. But I super like the final scenes where Christian showed to us that he has improved way beyond his acting skills.

The movie sets a message and it sends them right. We should value how we treat people whatever situation they are. Like the kids of "The Special Symphony", we should see life as one great picture. A SPECIAL SYMPHONY tells the story of extraordinary children with CHRISTIAN BAUTISTA finding a life with them. Experience their MUSIC, the FUN, & the DRAMA in this internationally flavored heartwarming movie!

Pedro Calungsod, Filipino Martyr and Saint

Blessed Pedro Calungsod was a 17-year old Roman Catholic Filipino martyr who was killed while doing missionary work in Guam in 1672. He was beatified on March 5, 2000, by Pope John Paul II. A skilled Sacristan and teacher of Catechism, he was a companion of Blessed Diego Luis de San Vitores to the Marianas Islands. Calungsod's persecution and Christian martyrdom is also called In Odium Fidei or In Hatred of the Faith. Through their missionary efforts, many catechumens converted to the Roman Catholic Church through the Sacrament of Baptism.

A plot to murder Calungsod and San Vitores started when a certain Choco, a Chinese who gained influence over the natives of Marianas Island, circulated false accusations that the missionaries were spreading poison through the ritual of the pouring of water (i.e. baptism), and through the ritual of Catholic Mass. Calungsod and Diego San Vitores were both caught and murdered after baptizing an infant girl and mother who converted to the Roman Catholic faith. Because of his association with the Chamorro natives of Guam, he is often portrayed with a Crucifix, Catechist book, and a Palm leaf.

Beatification of Pedro Calungsod

Blessed Pope John Paul II beatified both Father Diego Luis de San Vitores (October 6, 1985) and Pedro Calungsod (March 5, 2000) at Saint Peter's Square in Rome. Calungsod's first alleged miracle was the healing of a man with bone cancer, which paved the way of his beatification along with other 43 individuals who were declared Servants of God. Regarding Calungsod's charitable works and virtuous deeds, Pope John Paul II declared:
